IN STATE CUARD

Of Severe Criticism.

WHAT GUARD BOYS WANT. PRINCIPALS HAVE CHARGE,

Demand Adjutant and Brigadier Generals Who Are Not Crowded With Other Ensiness.

There is trouble in the national t headquarters, and according to complaints in a morning paper, a new adjutant general and a bran new brigader general are called for. It is alleged that men are wanted at the head of the ruard whose business pursuits will not revent them from giving needed attenon to the needs of the guard, and who ill not allow papers to lie in their lesks that require immediate examinaion until the subject matter to which hey relate has become ancient history. onsiderable prominence is made of thefts of state property from time to me at the state armory (referred to as bamboo shack), because of insuffi-cient protection, due, it is alleged, to neglect on the part of administrative officers of the guard to provide necesomicers of the guard to provide heces sary protection. A special board was appointed to examine into these thefts, for which the captains of the various commands are held responsible on their bonds, it is alleged. But the board was refused a judge advocate after it had requested one, and was told by the brigadier that it was not a brigadier that it was not a vestigation; consequently no judge advocate. The board promptly quit, and there that matter rests.

A point is made of the charge that owing to postponement of action at neadquarters, the enlistment of new companies in the First infantry has companies in the First infantry has been prevented, and valuable opportunities lost. The strength of the regiment is rapidly dwindling, and the command seems to be going to pieces, due, it is alleged, to inactivity at national guard headquarters. Requests are sent in in statutory form, and are not given attention for weeks, and perhaps menths. An inslance is mentioned in the case of a request of the regimental band to go to Boise, and which was not answered until after the return of the command. The account concludes:

concludes:

"There is plenty of material in the state that under the right management would make one of the finest guards in the country. But as things are at in the country. But as things are in a present, matters are in a sorry plight. Several high officers are upon the verge of resigning. If they do there are two or three companies that will go out in a body. They are remaining in the guard simply because these officers remain there and fight for their rights."

rights. Adjutant General Burton stated to the reporter who called on him:
"I do not know of any such discontent. Of course, there are petty grievances, as is always the case among men. There are some of the officers disgruntled because they have been called to account for loss of equipment. and the battery seems to think that the infantry is getting more favors than they In regard to the complaint about the way matters are handled at head the way matters are handled at head-quarters, I would say that they are given attention as soon as possible. Everything requires time, and they often get rather impatient. As for the board of inquiry, I have received no report from it yet. I don't know of any dissatisfaction among the men with their officers, and I think it is Both Adjutant General Burton and Brigadier General Cannon smiled to-day, at the accusations made against them, and the latter said that officers of the guard had telephoned in to him denying that they had anything to do with inspiring the publication of the stories about the general officers of the guard, and they had no grevance. n. Cannon says that the officer of Gen. Cannon says that the officer or officers who are guilty of inspiring what has been printed, ought to send in their resignations for the good of the service: that it is the veriest bosh and baby talk, and not worthy of the slightest consideration. He laughs at the observer made about his chewing the charge made about his chewing There is evidently some feeling on the part of the infantrymen toward the battery, which, they claim, gets all the good things, while the infantrymen ave to put up with what is left.

It is also claimed that the disbandng of companies B and C was due to nactivity and mismanagement and in erference by officers high in the guard doreover, froop A is without a cap-alo, and no prospect of one in sight. Il because of a theft of six saddles all because of a theft of six saddles and other equipment, which of course can not be accounted for, and head-quarters will not allow an election of a new commander in consequence. Then G company of Provo is on the road to dissolution, and E company at Bountiful is a ruin because of alleged incompetency at headquarters.

A point is made of the unmartial conduct of the brigade commander for chewing guin during the entire time of a recent battery inspection. Adjutant General Burton declines to be further interviewed on account of arges by some one who does not give his name.

DON'T, HE SAYS.

Dr. W. B. Clark of Indianapolis Scores Ladies' Home Journal.

I am both astonished and grieved to and in the Ladies' Home Journal for March some remarkably pernicious and eprehensible advice to mothers. This advice is most strangely and inapproprintely placed under the head of "What to Do When the Baby is Sick." The ars few lines of the article reads:

"At the end of his third month the by ought to be vaccinated by a phy allpox if exposed, and every baby asure. It is also well to have the clastic over before the baby begins cut his teeth. If the baby is vac-ated on the leg it is easier to care and often less painful to the child, mother should never try to vaccinher children, bu should have it done

The title of the above lines should lave been, "How to Make the Baby slick." These who follow this advice un the ghastly risk of making the babies not only desperately sick, but of killing them outright. They run the risk of stunting their development and of making them crippies or imebelles for life.-Medical Talk.

ROUGH RIDERS GALORE. Marshal B. B. Heywood this morning stated that the muster of rough riders promised to eclipse anything in the same direction that had been brought together before in Utah. From all over the state letters were being received that indicated that desegations of horsemen were coming from all points. The details of the parade have now nearly been completed and the Philippine veterans who thought that they were to be slighted have been assigned a place next to the G. A. R.

PHILIPPINE VETERANS. In connection with the Philippine veterans, the following communication was received yesterday from Major H. S. Foster of the Twelfth infantry, stationed at Fort Duchesne, It says in "The committee, barring myself, is made up of such able, distinguished and experienced men that it would seem like presumption on my part to offer any suggestions, especially as I am virtually a stranger to the city and cannot be present at the ceremonies, which I much regret. I may, however, venture to suggest that the venture to suggest that the Philippine veterans be given a prominent place in the parade. I served two weeks in Luzon with a platoon of the Utah artillery and formed a very high opinion of its efficiency. The platoon was in charge of Lieutenant Critchlow. The Utah artillers was an account to the Utah artillery was an honor to the state. Among the communications by mail and telephone that have been received by Marshal Heywood from outside points is one from Bryant S. Young and G. T. Bean, the committeemen at Richield, who state that a mass meeting field, who state that a mass meeting has been called for tomorrow night and that from present indications a carload of men and another of horses will be sent up to Salt Lake for the occasion. Charles H. Wood of Provo reports that to date 30 riders have promised to that to date 20 riders have promised to come and all indications point to as many more joining them next week.

Representative J. A. Anderson of Peterson was in Salt Lake yesterday and stated that a good representation of horsemen was assured. From Grantsville comes the word that at least 50 ville comes the word that at least to rough riders from that point will be in line when the parade starts. Kamas, Vernal, Alpine, American Fork, Span-ish Fork, Lehi, Gunnison, Nephi, Farmington, Layton, Centerville and other lowns have also been heard from and anywhere from 15 to 50 riders are
